

Enfield Careers Service

Online Careers Activities for Students

In response to coronavirus (COVID-19), we are offering our careers guidance services via phone, skype and email every Wednesday from 2 June until further notice between 9am and 3pm.

To request an appointment, email farah.ameerally@enfield.gov.uk. Alternatively, you can leave a message on 0208 078 9091 - this is an automated service.

This is a good time to start doing your careers research and we have put together the following tips for you as a starting point.

1.Apprenticeships: Thinking about an apprenticeship? You can register to receive details of vacancies in your area. Visit National Careers Service and Rate My Apprenticeship to find out more.

Book ASK virtual support

The ASK programme has been re-modelled so that apprenticeship support can be accessed digitally by students, teachers, parents and carers - providing a safe alternative to our face-to-face support. Browse the new brochure here and when you're ready, request support online here.

2. Webinars: A good starting point if you are considering careers in: Physiotherapy, Paramedic Science, Diagnostic/Therapeutic Radiography, and other Allied Health professions. To register, click <https://iseethedifference.co.uk/join-us-for-our-free-webinar-series-careers-in-allied-health/>

3. Higher Education

There are so many courses available. To find out more, visit UCAS to find out about the different courses you can study. You can also find out about a range of topics regarding higher education, such as UK university league tables and rankings from The Complete University Guide.

4. Career Inspiration

With so many careers and opportunities available, it can be difficult to know how to start your careers research. We have put together a list of useful websites to help you on page 2. Also visit BBC Bitesize for further careers information.

5. Careers Research

Research is an important step in your career journey as it can help you to gain clarity about your future. When doing your careers research, some of the factors you will need to consider are: Skills required for the job, Entry Requirements, Job Role, Training and qualification, Pay, Future progression routes and related jobs.

We have put together a list of useful websites which you can use as a starting point for your careers research. If you need clarification about aspect of your research, please contact us.

General websites

Apprenticeships

www.apprenticeships.gov.uk www.apprenticeships.london www.notgoingtouni.co.uk

Career Inspiration

www.icould.com
www.careersbox.co.uk
www.saci-student.com
www.purepotential.org www.startprofile.com www.nationalcareers.service.gov.uk

Gap Year

www.gapyear.com
www.latitude.org.uk
www.yearoutgroup.org

Volunteering

www.enfieldva.org.uk
www.vinspired.com
www.ncyes.co.uk
www.volunteering.org.uk

Sector specific websites

Creative

www.discovercreative.careers

Health and Medical

www.healthcareers.nhs.uk
www.bma.org.uk

Law

www.lnat.ac.uk
www.lawsociety.org.uk
www.lawcareers.net

Media

www.creativeskillset.org www.ft2.org.uk
www.bjtc.org.uk

Science, Technology, Engineering and Maths

www.wherestemcantakeyou.co.uk www.futuremorph.org www.tomorrowsengineers.org.uk
www.bcs.org
www.iap.org.uk
www.actuaries.org.uk

For any other sector which is not listed above, please visit www.successtschool.org

Note The websites listed above are given for information only and we do not accept directly or indirectly any responsibility for loss directly or indirectly from reliance on these sites. Given that the internet uses an open system, we cannot warrant that these sites and downloads are virus free.